The first step toward manual training

The first step toward manual training in the Topeka schools was taken by the board of education at the meeting last night when a resolution was passed providing for the purchase of the nine lots on the corner of Harrison and Eighth streets opposite the present high school building.

The board has been discussing the proposed manual training high school for two years. The crowded condition of the present high school building must be relieved. Last term there were more scholars in attendance than could be comfortably accommodated. The attendance for the coming term will be increased. The board must provide some relief for the high school and the plan which has been suggested and discussed a for a manual training high school. Inch will relieve the present high school building and also provide manual training.

Some time ago Edward Wilder and P. J. Ronebrake bought the nine loss for were 10 votes for the resolution and none against. Dr. Embree voted a half each way and Roudebush was the only one to cast a vote against it.

At the September meeting the board will decide upon a proposition for the issuing of bonds for $100,000 for the building of the manual training high school and some ward schools.

The meeting of the board was one of those hand-to-hand sort of side-talkswith affairs where every one enjoyed himself. P. I. Bonebrake, chairman of the finance committee, nearly created a riot by appearing in his shirt sleeves. Then he went to work in the voice of an auctioneer reading bills. No one ilstened to him and the bills were allowed. The members of the board seemed quite jolly. They chatted and talked and whispered regardless of such small matters as bills.

and whispered regardless of such small matters as bills.

The offer of R. J. Ketchum to pay $500 for the 16 lots owned by the board on Taylor and Grant streets in North Topeka was considered. Dr. J. F. Buck and J. W. Priddy, the members from the north side, declared the lots worth more more money.

"We had better keep them than sell them at that price," suggested Mr. Wilder.

"We might set a price on them," suggested Mr. Priddy.

"Set the price at $100 a lot," said Mr. Gleed.

"Set the price at $100 a lot," said Mr. Gleed.

"Oh, that is too much," said several.

"Well, you don't want to sell them," replied Gleed.

"Couldn't we move Douglass school over there?" asked Mr. Wilder. "We might get some scholars."

"About as many as we have at Douglass school in Lowman Hill," replied Priddy referring to the scholarless school.

"Why not move the lots over the river?" suggested Dr. Embree.

The staid old school fathers stopped their raillery long enough to accept the proposition of Chris States to repair the boiler of the heating plant at Polk school for $150. This is another one of the heating plants which did not result in satisfaction.

The bid of F. P. Edson to put in sanitary plumbing at Clay school for $1.658 was accepted. The report was received that the school board's share of paving taxfor the 9 lots of Polk school on street would be $1.069 and the paving tax of the six Clay school lots on Clay street would be $639. Mr. Matthews moved that the paving tax be paid in installments. "I second the motion as we are busted now." said Mr. Bonebrake.

He looked at Mr. Gised, who happens to be a lawyer. There was a silencs for a moment. Mr. Gleed was in deep thought. The members of the hoard were listening for the broadside. "Yet I have known young bankers to discount old ones," replied Mr. Gleed.

The board then proceeded to transact business and abandon repartee for a while. Rev. F. E. Mallory was unanimously elected president of the board and J. W. Gleed was elected vice president. Joseph Stewart was re-elected cierk. The new members took their seats. Russell Barber succeeded Dr. J. F. Buck from the First ward; Fred Keith succeeded G. H. Matthews from the Fifth ward and E. E. Roudebush succeeded J. W. Dalley from the Sixth ward.

The board decided on the school levy for the coming year of 16 mills. The levy for the general fund will be 12 mills, for the building fund 3 mills and the interest and sinking fund 1 mill. The levy last year was 15½ mills as the interest and sinking fund had been reduced a half mill since 1900 and will now be put back at the former levy of 1 mill.

HANNA'S AMBITION.

He Says It Has Been to Merit the Respect of Labor.

Cleveland, Aug. 5.—The employes of the Cleveland City Railway company, of which Senator M. A. Hanna is president, met in a downtown hall last night and gave to Senator Hanna a valuable cane. In acknowledging the gift Senator Hanna expressed his sincere thanks to his employes for their gift and incidentally spoke upon the relations that he hopes soon to see existing between capital and labor. In part, he said:

"I cannot adequately express my feelings on this occasion. It has been the one ambition of my life to merit the respect, if not the affection, of the men in my employ. I have been with laboring men all my life and have been their employer for many years, and this night means something to me, for it brings with it the satisfaction of knowing that so large a number of men in my employ have been satisfied with my career as an employer.

"Your chairman has referred to the civic federation. I say to you that were it not for my official position and my duties as a public servant. I would devote more of my time to the policies on which that organization is found."

Concerning the anthracite strike Senator Hanna said: "When the great anthracite strike was threatening our federation worked hard for weeks to avert it, to bring men and employers together, but failed. After it was on we worked hard to settle it, but failed. However, in that matter it is my personal satisfaction to know that the statement that I made at the time that he men would not go back on their word, has been kept and that a sympathetic strike has been averted. I told the federation that there

Biggest Ever Undertaken.

New York, Aug. 5.—Work will begin today on the foundation at the New York navy-yard on which the new 16,-600 ton battleship Cincinnati will be constructed. Three thousand spiles are to be driven into the ground set apart for the building site, in order to make a sure foundation for the ways. The construction of this ship will be the biggest work ever undertaken at the New York yard. The only battleship built there previously was the ill-fated Maine.

Mr. Edward Wilder, who attended the National Teachers' association meeting at Minneapolis, made some informal comments. He said he was surprised at the convention to see that the majority of the teachers present were quite young. He remarked that he thought the teachers in the city schools, as a rule, are too young and that the board should gradually work.

Arthur Sparks is Brought Back From Kansas City.

AMILY rows are usually settled in police court by the discharge of the defendants with an admonition to "don't let it occur again," but Mr. R. Waters and wife, Eliza Waters, both colored, of 224 Crane street, got a change of program this morning. The pair have been in the habit of fighting whenever the the habit of fighting whenever the spirit moved them, and this morning about 2 o'clock, after they had absorbed enough of the "spirit." they started a rough house. Messra, Henderson and Wilcox, officers of the law, as it is written in Topeka, called at the Waters residence in time to corral the family and put out a hiaze started by them while playing ping pong with the parlor lamp. They had been absorbing booze in large quantities, and it was evident that the booze would not mix properly with the Waters, so that the officers found it necessary to gather the pair, and escort them to the keep. This morning when the court kindly fined them only $25 per, Mrs. Waters shed bitter tears, and refused to be comforted by the court's kindly assurance that it was nothing serious.

Contrary to all expectations, Chas. Lawson, the jointist who was charged with resisting an officer and carrying concealed weapons, was discharged from the police court last evening. Lawson's trial had been postponed because his face, which had been treated, or mistreated, by little Officer Barrett, who is a facial fresco artist, would not permit Mr. Lawson to attend the court at an earlier date. After hearing the evidence the court decided that the charge of resisting an officer was nothing more than a personal fight between the officer and Lawson, and that the big jointist had been sufficiently punished. Mr. Urmy seemed aggrieved because Lawson was discharged on the resistance clause, and refused to prosecute on the other charges. This leaves a slim opening for Lawson to prosecute Barrett on the charge of assault, and it is the opinion of the entire force that the court made a mistake.

Among the cases which will not be prosecuted in police court is a strenuous set-to between Fox and Devro, two local colored musicians, who are wont to plunk the banjo on the thoroughfares and subsequently pass the Panama. It seems that Mr. Fox filled his person with bad brew last Saturday eve, and afterward passed his lid, taking up certain and sundry coins. His partner, Mr. Devro, called for a fair and impartial division of the spoils, as per custom, but Mr. Fox was filled with an idea that he was too foxy for anything like that. He could not even see his partner as they passed by. As a gentle reminder of his presence Mr. Devro then landed on Mr. Fox with the rim of his banjo, making therewith an embrasure in Mr. Fox's pelt. Mr. Fox suddenly came to, shook hands with his confederate, and swore that he was a gentleman, and that he had done the proper thing under the circumstances. It is stated that he also made haste to divide the collection.

Arthur Sparks, the young Kansas City man who was brought back by Deputy Sheriff Stewart yesterday, charged with the larceny of 1,056 cigars from T. M., James, ir., of North Topeka, is the son of a former Kansas City detective. A Kansas City paper says of the young man:

Kansas City paper says of the young man:

"The clerk in the cigar store reported to his employer that the cigars had been taken from him by force, but Sparks says he and his companion won them playing a slot machine. Anyone who knows young Sparks can readily credit his story. It is currently believed here that the slot machine that he cannot beat has not yet been invented. So large and constant were his winnings when the gambling slot machines were in vogue that it is said he was finally barred from playing them.

"Young Sparks would never reveal the secret of his success in hypnottaing an unresponsive piece of machinery so that it give up to him the coin accumulated from the contributions of the gullible,

ut his 'ability' in that direction canno

If he can prove that he won the cigars from James, it will be one on the establishment. Under any circumstances the boy in charge of the store acted foolishly in allowing Sparks to play a dollar on the side. Owners of the penny machines say they cannot even afford to allow a side bet of a dime on the whirl, as the machines are so made that they pay only a small margin to the house.

IT WAS A FAILURE, Colonial Conference Did Not B

Colonial Conference Did Not Result
According to Anticipations.

New York, Aug. 5.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's admissions on Friday are regarded by the Radical press, says a Tribune dispatch from London as proof from his point of view that the colonial conference has been a failure. Mr. Chamberlain's objects in convening it they say, were better adjustments of imperial defense, and imperial trade. He hoped and expected to lay the foundations for a customs union, and to obtain the consent of the premiers to a scheme under which the greater colonies would make specific contributions to the cost of defending the empire. The premiers will have nothing to do with a customs union, since it would mean a closs of revenue which the states they represent could ill afford. They will have nothing to do with any contribution to military necessities which are fixed or compulsory. They argue that should any power, Germany or another, land troops in Canada or send a hostile fleet into Canadian waters, it would be faced by an American veto. The one power that could invade Canada is the United States, against whom England, the dispatch adds, would be powerless.

CAREER IS CHECKED. A Swindler Falls Down on His First Attempt

Attempt.

Ban Francisco, Aug. 5.—"Lieutenant" Edgar N. Coffey of New York has been arrested in Oakland, charged with passing a bogus check on Mrs. Barbara, a landlady of the Galindo hotel. His arrival at the hotel a few days ago was preceded by a letter from Portland, Ore., purporting to be signed by George W. McIver, captain of the Seventh infantry, U. S. A., stating that Coffey was a second lieutenant of that company who had been sent south on official business, requesting that his name and rank be kept secret and asking the hotel people to cash a check for $150, which had been given him. The letter was written on official paper and the lieutenant brought with him many spparently genuine credentials. The check was cashed by Mrs. Barbara, whose suspicions were aroused, however, when a second check was presented by Coffey. An investigation was made and his arrest followed.

Among his effects were found a great number of army official envelopes, large quantities of army stationery, many army transportation blanks, a number of blank checks and a large army revolver. At first he strongly protested his innocence, but finally admitted that he was not what he claimed to be, but asserted that this was his first offense against the law. He is a man of fine appearance and good address.

Been United.

New York, Aug.5.—In connection with the Southern Pacific railroad's new arrangement for the handling of its ocean freight between this and southern ports, the Journal of Commerce says it learns from an official source that the Morgan and Cromwell lines have been combined; in other words, the vessels and property of the Cromwell service have been purchased by and turned over to the Southern Pacific company. The terms of the transfer are not yet available, however. It is also learned that the agencies of the Cromwell line in Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore will be abolished as was the local agency, and what were formerly two separate services will be operated as one, except that they will, of course, ply between different points; that is, one from New York to Galveston direct for freight only and the other from New York to New Orleans, carrying both freight and passengers. The management will be centralized and unified.

The Cromwell Line is an old service. In 1853 the company operated a service to Portland, Me., Halifax, N. S., and St. Johns, Ten years later the New Orleans service was inaugurated. It is not yet known whether the Cromwell corporation will be continued or not.
